Our guide to cultural events in New York City for children and teenagers happening this weekend and in the week ahead.

THE LISTINGS

It’s a big city and there’s lots to do. See picks chosen by Times editors and critics for theater, pop & rock music, classical music, comedy, dance, movies, art and events for children.

‘DON QUIXOTE TAKES NEW YORK’ at La MaMa (through May 6). The hero of this production is more likely to tilt at skyscrapers than at windmills. An adaptation of an adaptation, it sets Iván Cardozo and Beatriz Caballero’s puppet theater version of Cervantes’s novel in New York City, where Don Quixote and Sancho Panza are trying to shield the Statue of Liberty from a villain known as the Orange Knight. Although adults may detect political satire here, young theatergoers can have fun just watching the onstage adventure, created by Federico Restrepo and Denise Greber. Part of the La MaMa Kidsseries and presented by Loco7 Dance Puppet Theater Company, the show, playing weekends at noon, uses live music, movement, video animation and puppets and props that are sometimes larger than the actors.
